

Performance Test Codes Medal

The Performance Test Codes Medal is awarded to an individual (or individuals in exceptional circumstances) who has made outstanding contributions to the development and promotion of ASME Performance Test Codes, including the Supplements on Instruments and Apparatus.

The medal was established to recognize the first voluntary codes and standards activity in the Society and in the United States. The codes are recognized throughout the world for their excellence, providing industry and the engineering community with the technology that promotes the philosophy of accurate and reliable performance evaluation.

The award was established in 1981 by contributions to the Performance Test Codes of the Society. For more information on the medal.

Medallists

1984 Kenneth C. Cotton William G. McLean	2002 John M. Burns
1985 James W. Murdock	2003 Jeffrey R. Friedman
1986 John H. Fernandes	2005 Samuel J. Korellis
1987 P.H. Knowlton, Jr.	2006 John W. Siegmund
1988 Charles B. Scharp	2008 Joseph W. Milton
1989 Frederick H. Light	2009 Steven P. Nuspl
1990 Karl G. Grothues	2010 Gordon J. Gerber
1991 Robert Jorgensen	2011 W. Cary Campbell
1992 Joseph S. Davis, Jr.	2012 Paul G. Albert
1993 Philip M. Gerhart	2013 Patrick M. McHale
1995 Silas L. Morse	2014 W. Glenn Steele
1996 Ronald L. Bannister	2015 Thomas C. Heil (pics)
1997 Norman R. Deming	2016 Matthew Dooley (pics)
1998 David R. Keyser	2017 Thomas Keith Kirkpatrick (pics)
1999 Roy P. Allen	2018 Michael P. McHale (pics)
2000 John C. Westcott	2019 Steven A. Scavuzzo (pics)
2001 Ronald H. Dieck	2020 William Wood